Guns have become one of the issues dividing America today, but Auster doesn't take sides. The book is a plea for both sides to find a way of avoiding more death and grief. Accompanying Auster's text is a series of photographs of the locations of these mass killings. There are no bodies - only the empty spaces which stand as mute memorials to the lives that have been lost.

A stunning examination of the epidemic of mass shootings in America today.

Tom Ripley wants money, success, and the good life - and he's willing to kill for it. Struggling to stay one step ahead of his creditors (and the law), Ripley leaps at the chance to start afresh on a free trip to Europe. But when his new-found happiness is threatened, his response is as swift as it is shocking.

Now a major new Netflix series starring Andrew Scott.

By the River

Essays from the Water's Edge

Twelve writers consider how rivers shape us throughout our lives, demarcating cities as well as moulding our creative consciousness. From night fishing for eels by the river Severn to visiting tropical waterfalls, this essay collection brings contemporary writers together in a celebration of water and its transformative qualities.

An essay collection, which blends nature writing and memoir from some of the most exciting writers of today.
