 UK-Ausgabe Fosse, Jon A New Name dt. Der andere Name In this final instalment of Jon Fosse's Septology, we follow the lives of the two Asles as younger adults in flashbacks. A New Name: Septology VI-VII is a transcendent exploration of the human condition, and a radically other reading experience - incantatory, hypnotic, and utterly unique. 9781804270219 13,90 € B-Format	 UK-Ausgabe Fosse, Jon A Shining ET 01.11.2023 A man starts driving without knowing where he is going. He alternates between turning right and left, and finally he gets stuck at the end of a forest road. Soon it gets dark and starts to snow, but instead of going back to find help, he ventures, foolishly, into the dark forest. 9781804270639 14,90 € B-Format

Boathouse

Boathouse is told from the perspective of an unnamed narrator leading a hermit-like existence until he encounters a long-lost friend and his wife. With an atmosphere reminiscent of a crime novel, Boathouse slowly unravels the story of a love triangle leading to jealousy, betrayal, and eventually death.

I is Another
dt. Ich ist ein anderer

Asle is an ageing painter and widower who lives alone on the southwest coast of Norway. His only friends are his neighbour, Asleik, a traditional fisherman-farmer, and Beyer, a gallerist who lives in the city. There, in Bjorgvin, lives another Asle, also a painter but lonely and consumed by alcohol.

Melancholy

In real life, Lars Hertervig would become, along with Edvard Munch, one of Norway's most renowned painters-but in Melancholy he is a promising young artist tortured by doubt and unhinged by unrequited love.

Melancholy II

Not so much a sequel as an alternate perspective, Jon Fosse's coda to his brilliant and much-lauded Melancholy picks up the story of tormented landscape painter Lars Hertervig in 1902, shortly after his death.

Melancholy I-II
dt. Melancholie

Melancholy I-II is a fictional invocation of the nineteenth-century Norwegian artist Lars Hertervig, who painted luminous landscapes, suffered mental illness and died poor in 1902. In this wild, feverish narrative, Jon Fosse delves into Hertervig's mind as the events of one day precipitate his mental breakdown.

Morning and Evening
dt. Morgen und Abend

A child who will be named Johannes is born. An old man named Johannes dies. Between these two points, Jon Fosse gives us the details of an entire life, starkly compressed. Morning and Evening is a novel concerning the beautiful dream that our lives have meaning.

Scenes from a Childhood

The latest collection of stories by Jon Fosse, famed for the minimalist and unsettling quality of his writing. In the title work, a loosely autobiographical narrative covers infancy to awkward adolescence, unearthing the moments of childhood that linger longest in the imagination.

Angel Walks Through the Stage and Other Essays

Jon Fosse said farewell to theory early in his career, choosing poetry, fiction, and drama as his mediums of choice. Here, however, in a selection from his two books of essays, we see just how incisive a critic and memoirist he can be.
